Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 15-16, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Machida (JP402216992A) in view of Tanaka et al. (US PAT: 6,243,442 B1, filed 12-19-1997, hereinafter Tanaka).

Regarding claims 15-16, Machida discloses method for processing an emergency call made from behind a PBX/MLTS, the method comprising the steps of: assigning priority within the PBX/MLTS to a call determined to be emergency call without interrupting any existing calls (fig. 1, see abstract).

Machida differs from claims 15-16 in that although he teaches use of PBX for identifying emergency situation by means of PB signal sent from an extension telephone as shown above, he does not explicitly teach the following: within the PBX/MLTS determining whether dialed digits represent an emergency number.

Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to modify Machida's system to provide for the following: within the PBX/MLTS determining whether dialed digits represent an emergency number as this arrangement would provide an another method of identifying emergency call as taught by Tanaka, thus ensuring emergency call is identified properly for providing priority treatment.

3. Claims 1-14, are allowed.
